PERFECT ACTION in the California Brittany club field trials, held Saturday and Sunday in the Game reserve area north of Success lake is shown above, as a dog stands on a pheasant, then holds the point as second dog in the brace backs up the first dog as the pheasant runs to new cover; handler kicks out the bird, which is knocked down by official gunners, who follow the dog handlers, as the dogs continue to hold, then the bird is retrieved on command of the handler. Ninety-five dogs were entered in the Brittany Spaniel event, which, for the first time in Brittany club annals was opened to other breeds. Attending the event were dog owners from San Diego into Oregon; the 1963 National Brittany Pheasant classic will be held in the same area October 3-8, with dogs entered from throughout the United States and Canada. ## Women's Club To Honor Veterans

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 28 — Veterans will be honored at next Monday's luncheon meeting of the Porterville Women's club, with theme to be, "Soldiers of Yesterday". Buck Shaffer's band will play; program will be "The Wonderful World of Magic", presented by Bill Chaudet, who received his training from his uncle, "The Great Blackstone."

the Western parade that is set for Springville's rodeo weekend, April 6 and 7, with the parade scheduled for the Springville business district at 10 a.m., April 6.

Jim Barber, Springville business man who is heading the parade committee, says that no entry blanks are necessary; persons desiring to enter simply contact him by letter or phone, a number will be assigned each entry, then entries will be positioned as they arrive the morning of April 6. Entry deadline is April 1.

Trophies and ribbons will be (Continued On Page 8)

LIVESTOCK TOUR HERE TOMORROW

TERRA BELLA, Feb. 28 — Livestock men — and women — from the western states, but principally from Utah and California, will be in Tulare county today and tomorrow to view ranches and other facilities, with lunch to be served to possibly 600 persons at the Terra Bella Memorial building tomorrow, at noon, by the Tulare County Cow Belles, assisted by the Tulare County Cattlemen's association.

The tour, sponsored by the Nelson Crowe publications and the First Security Bank of Utah, will be on the road a week, starting from the Davis campus of the University of California last Monday morning, and continuing through the central California area and on to Newhall Saturday afternoon.

Ranches, feedlots, dairies, and marketing facilities will be visited during the "College on Wheels" winter study tour.

This afternoon the tour will visit the California Farm Bureau Marketing association yard at Visalia, with interest centered on the new marketing-by-wire-system, IDA; later the tour will visit Del Vac Farms, at Tulare, and then spend the night in Tulare.

Field Crop Meet March 6 Set At Poplar

POPLAR, Feb. 28 — Field crop meeting, under direction of the Tulare county farm and home advisors office, will be held next Wednesday, March 6, at the Poplar Grange hall, starting at 2 p.m.

Subjects to be covered include, "Why The Decline in Cotton Yields", also discussion of production problems in alfalfa, black-eyes, and grain sorghums. Handling the meeting will be Farm Advisor Bill Saltee.

Jackass Mail!

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 28 — Stalworth citizens of Porterville and Springville will meet tomorrow morning, Friday, at 8:30 o'clock in the city hall to lay plans for the second annual running of the Jackass Mail between Porterville and Springville. Tentative date for this fearless revival of one of California's historic businesses has been set for March 30. All interested persons are invited to attend tomorrow morning's meeting.

FULL HOUSE AT CENTER MEETING

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 28 — Some 30 persons attended a dinner meeting of the reactivated Porterville Farm Bureau Center Tuesday night at the Paul Bunyan restaurant to hear Farm Advisor Karl Opitz and Merv Brown, assistant manager of the Sunkist grower relations department, speak on various aspects of the citrus industry. Bill Benson, center chairman, presided; Bill Bennett introduced the speakers.

TO BE honored at 25th anniversary banquet of the Woodville chamber of commerce Saturday night will be Mrs. Ida Hudson, top, first president of the Woodville Civic club back in 1937, and the late Al Higgins, first president of the Woodville chamber, in 1939. Also to be honored will be Herman Vossler, second president of the Woodville chamber, who now resides at Morro Bay.

New Play Opens Friday At Barn

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 28 — "Breath of Spring", an English comedy by Peter Coke, opens tomorrow at the Porterville Barn Theater for three weeks of Friday and Saturday night runs. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Cast for the play, that deals with a group of elderly British folks who embark on a glamorous life of crime, includes Fran Bellamy, Winnie Trafton, and Hal Munter, of Lindsay; Toni Miller, of Strathmore; Mary Jane and Bill Berry, Bill Jamison, and Leslie Andrews, of Porterville. Director is Richard Newman.

TYPE III POLIO VACCINE CLINICS WILL BE SET UP MARCH 10 UNDER DIRECTION OF MEDICAL SOCIETY

VISALIA, Feb. 28 — The last of the Medical society sponsored oral polio clinics in Tulare county will be held Sunday, March 10, when Type III vaccine will be offered.

For full protection it is necessary to be immunized against all three types of polio virus, Type I, Type II and Type III. The Sabin series separates the three types. One type does not immunize against all types of polio virus. In order to be protected against the Type III polio virus, each person must take the Type III oral vaccine.

If you missed Type I or Type II or both you may still take Type

WOODVILLE BANQUET SATURDAY

WOODVILLE, Feb. 28 — There'll be big doin's at Woodville, come Saturday night, what with the silver anniversary banquet of the Woodville chamber of commerce set for the elementary school cafeteria, followed by a dance in the Woodville Civic hall, with music by the Fabulous Studio band.

Women of the Woodville Civic club, with Mrs. John Monroe in charge, will serve their usual sumptuous dinner; there will be no official speaker; Supervisor Ray Longley, from Porterville and Supervisor Don Hillman, from Tulare, will act as masters of ceremonies, with appropriate degrading of the other's community.

Special tribute will be paid to Mrs. Ida Hudson, first president of the Woodville Civic club, to the memory of the late Al Higgins, first president of the Woodville chamber of commerce, and to Herman Vossler, the chamber's second president.

John Monroe, 1962 president of the chamber, will extend a welcome; the Rev. Lorin Gorce will give the invocation; entertainment will be presented by a singing trio — Ann Bluekle, Pat Cone and Barbara Commers — and by a group of Can Can dancers, instructed by Norma Beaver.

In the Can Can group will be Cathy Vossler, Margaret Vaznaian, (Continued On Page 10)

LARRY TODD, of Terra Bella right, who won the student event in skydiving competition at the Porterville airport over the weekend; student category is less than 25 jumps. With Todd is Eric Hanson, of Porterville and now a student at Cal Poly, who has been instructing Todd.

Citrus Damage Evaluation Today

TERRA BELLA, Feb. 28 — Evaluation of frost damage to citrus, and information on the handling of frost-damaged trees will be the topics of two field meetings that will organize today at the office of the Terra Bella Irrigation district at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Farm Advisor Karl Opitz will conduct the field tours; all interested persons are invited.

Editorial Comment

BAD COMPANY

Leftists, liberals and bleeding hearts who have been raising such a hullabalony about destroying or hog-tying the House Committee on Un-American Activities are travelling in bad company.

As pointed out recently by the Committee's Chairman, Congressman Francis E. Walter, abolition or crippling of the Committee is the fourth of seven steps called essential to the victory of Communism in the United States by last year's conclave of top-ranking world Communists in Czechoslovakia.

The conclave's primary goal, according to the World Marxist Review, is outright abolition of the HCUA. Pending that ultimate achievement, it advocates transfer of the Committee's functions to a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee, or at least a large cut in its appropriation. Either, of course, would drastically impair the Committee's operations.

Representative Jimmy Roosevelt of California, among others, has introduced a resolution calling for such transfer of the Committee's functions to Judiciary.

One of the arguments used by the Committee's opponents is that it has produced no meaningful legislation. Quite the contrary, as Chairman Walter points out, the HCUA—between 1940 and 1963—made 142 legislative recommendations, 98 of them without repetition. Of those recommendations 42 have been enacted into law. At least 13 of its policy recommendations have been put into effect by the Executive branch.

The record speaks far better for the Committee than the company they keep speaks for its liberal opponents.

CALIFORNIA SPEAKS

JAMES A. NEWTON, Palo Alto — "In 1950, Representative John F. Kennedy posed the question to the House: 'How long can we continue deficit financing on such a large scale with a national debt of over $258 billions?' The question now appears to be: How much longer at $300 billions?"

LARRY LEWIS, 95, S.F. waiter — "I grew up with Navajo and Papago Indians for playmates and they taught me that a friendly approach brought a friendly response. I believe in smiling first."

GENE JOHNSON, U.C. trackman — "The pole vaulters are going so high they'll get a nose bleed one of these days."

DOCTOR WILLIAM HUNTER, S.F. bone and muscle specialist, criticizing 50-mile physical fitness hike craze — "It's like saying there's something the matter with your car so go drive it to beat hell."

MAYOR GEORGE CHRISTOPHER, S.F., to California publishers — "If we have managed news we will have mismanaged government."

LLEWELLYN B. PECK, Saratoga — "If we are to be governed by laws, and not men, the purpose of our legal system should be cold, impartial justice."

JANET LEIGH, Hollywood — "Get me being an actress. I used to get nauseous in Speech 1A."

STUDENTS TO PRESENT PROGRAM

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 28 — Two Porterville college students presented entertainment at the annual meeting of the San Joaquin Valley Community Television association, held Wednesday at the science building on the Fresno State College campus. Mrs. Marina York, a former resident of Brazil, and Suzana Britto de Silva of Recife, Brazil, currently a student at the college, presented a program of Brazilian folk music in native costume.

THE OLD ARCH HAS BEEN SAVED.

And it all happened like this. Mrs. John Whelan informed us that the archway on Putnam avenue that was built before the turn of the century by the late J. H. Williams was in a dangerous state of ill-repair; we ran a picture and asked if anyone was interested in doing something about the historic arch; someone was - namely Henry Allen, Al Hilton and Jerry Hilton, all of whom own parts of the old Williams ranch. They reset the arch in concrete; a coat of red and white paint is going on right now, and the arch will continue to be a historical monument in the community. Photo shows braces under the arch as it was straightened up preparatory to pouring its new base. (Farm Tribune photo)

I Am The American Small Town

(From the Eldorado, Kansas, Times)

I am a compact cluster of people and their modest homes, set down along the banks of some placid stream, or in some secluded vale — or perhaps in the sheltering shadows of high hills.

I make no pretense of earthy greatness. No roaring facilities of mankind intrude upon my premises; no glittering spires or minarets or towers dominate my lowly sky line.

Yet I represent a happiness and a repose such as is rarely found in these latter days of turmoil and striving.

Sturdy hands formed my outlines in the long, long ago when the world was young — and when an empire was being wrested from the virgin wilderness. I am the product of the true-hearted — those faithful, valiant ones, who came and stayed, who planted their banners on the rolling prairies and established a secure homeland for their kind.

I am profoundly grateful that the blood of those gallant pioneers runs in my veins; that the lessons they taught me of frugality, of the blessings of honest toil and the wisdom of fair dealing have not departed from me.

I rejoice that those who dwell within my narrow boundaries find serenity in Nature's loveliness about them, contentment in simple pleasures and strength in close neighborly ties.

For my part, I endeavor to bestow upon them a perspective of peace — far removed from the clangor of worldly marts and the bedlam of industrial furnaces. Here, in the midst of tranquility, I offer them the opportunity to work and play at moderate pace — and to find sufficient room in which their souls may grow.

Wayfarers will not behold my name emblazoned in dazzling lights—yet there are those scattered in far places who remember me tenderly—sometimes with tear or sigh. The map makers mark me with a single dot upon their charts—but to some who wander in the desolation of human jungles, I bear the magic and mystic symbol of Home.

I number my children only by the score, and those who sojourn in the canyons of massed centers hold me in slight esteem. I bear no grudge, for I am favored with such bounties as the good earth, the radiant sky, the free and vagrant winds and the wideness of God's out-of-doors. Each day as it passes brings me new vigor — new joy in plain and wholesome living.

I occupy only a tiny spot in the firmament, yet my being must be marked for usefulness in the Master Plan, else there would not be so many of me.

I am the haven of the free-born, the habitation of those who cherish their independence. I have learned to dwell in harmony with my neighbor. From me flows a force which exerts a mellowing influence upon the lustiness of our nation, and contributes the savor of tolerance and restraint to the distilled essence of its character.

I am the American Small Town — the final freehold of American liberties, and the sleepless guardian of America's unrivalled and surpassingly precious way of life.

SHOCK WAVE shaker was demonstrated last week at the Harlan Hughes olive grove southwest of Porterville to show a new principle of fruit and nut picking by shaking. Idea of this equipment, manufactured by Meschendorf & Brandt, of Marysville, is to shake an entire tree by gripping its trunk, (on olives it was necessary to grip the large limbs) with omni-directional reciprocating forces, developed by two out-of-balance energy wheels, working in opposite directions at different speeds, producing a sharp, shock-type, back-and-forth motion. Shock waves thus developed produce a rapid vibration through the tree, and fruit is dropped straight down to the ground or into some type of catcher. Photo series shows the tree shaker moving up to a tree with Dick Brandt demonstrating; hydraulic clamp is tightened on an olive limb; the shaker goes to work; a close-up of part of the machine covered with olives.

The shaker is being used in many types of fruit and nut picking, and thinning; it has a number of adaptations for special conditions and types of jobs. In Tulare county agriculture, it appears to be suitable for thinning of deciduous fruits, prune picking, nut picking, and olive picking.

DENNIS DUNBAR SPEAKER AT ROCKFORD CLUB

ROCKFORD, Feb. 28 — Dennis Dunbar, a Tulare county 4-H All Star and a member of the Pleasant View club, was guest speaker at the February meeting of the Rockford 4-H club, telling of his projects and experiences in 4-H work, and emphasizing that the leadership abilities, self confidence, personality development, ability to keep records, and the ability to compete that the 4-H program emphasizes, will be of value all through life.

Jamie Lunstad reported that the club would have a 4-H window at Judie Barnhart's in Porterville during 4-H week, March 2-9; Carol Childress reported on the club's Valentine party; Kathy Briano announced that Catholic club members would attend 9:30 a.m. Mass, and Karol Kisling reported that other members would attend services at the Church of Christ on 4-H Sunday.

Carol Briano reported on a Rockford PTA meeting at which club members presented the program; project reports were given by Danny Bushak, Dennis Cavit, Michael Firestone, Carol Briano and Kathy Briano; congratulations were extended to Randy and David Jones for earning a gold seal at the Exeter High School Field day, and to Jamie and Jackie Lunstad, who received a blue seal.

Mrs. Pete Lunstad, community leader, urged members to attend a Regional Field day at Hanford high school, March 9, also that members were invited to hear John Guthrie speak on his tour of Russia at a Westfield club meeting.

Board meeting was announced for the Lunstad home, March 4.

Citrus Loss Estimated At 1 1/2 Million Boxes

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28 — California lost one and one-half million boxes of oranges — mostly in Tulare county — as a result of the January freeze, according to the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service.

Crop forecast of 12.5 million boxes is still nearly two-thirds above the small crop of last year, but is two per cent below the five-year average.

Valencia crop is now forecast at 14.5 million boxes, 11 per cent above last season, but 20 per cent below the five-year average.

WAR WIDOWS SHOULD CHECK ON PENSIONS

VISALIA, Feb. 21 — Tulare County Service Officer Gene Wise reminds widows of both World War II and Korean Conflict veterans that they might be eligible for widows pensions due to changes in law over the past three years. Wise said that changes in the pension laws had been publicized over the past two years, but that there still might be widows who don't know of the available pensions. He urged that all inquiries be taken to the County Service office at Court House, Room 21-E, in Visalia. Initial inquiry can be made by phoning REdwood 2-5511, Ext. 314.

Dr. Carl Jung, the great Austrian psychiatrist, once said, "Every one of my patients over 35 fell ill and became maladjusted because he had lost something. He had lost that which the living religions have given their followers; and none of these patients have ever been healed who did not regain his religious outlook."

A stenographer was deeply troubled. Being neither talented nor beautiful, Alice was afraid of her boss, resented her fellow workers, and lived in fear of losing her job. One day she read a magazine article which challenged her.

"Try religion for a day", the writer urged. "All the great down through the ages have agreed as to the overwhelming benefits of religion as the supreme hygiene. Don't you think it's worth investing one day of the 25,000 of your probable life span?"

The following Sunday Alice attended church. She dusted off her Bible and read it. She began thinking about her happy, Godly parents, and about Christ's promise of a more abundant life. She knelt in her room and asked God to help her find faith and freedom from fear.

Next morning she found herself enjoying her job. Her resentments, anger, suspicion, and intolerance were gone. She felt happy, and looked radiant. People soon noticed the difference in her.

While a great religious awakening was sweeping Wales, some ministers branded it religious hysteria, and said it would accomplish no permanent good. An English clergyman traveled to Cardiff to see for himself. A policeman directing traffic was singing a hymn. "He is the one," mused the clergyman, "who can tell me where the revival is."

"Yes, sir," said the cop, patting his broad chest, "I'll tell you where the revival is. It's here — in my heart."

Rodeo Queen!

SPRINGVILLE, Sept. 28 — The field is wide open, but the deadline is March 2 for entry in the contest that will decide who will reign over Springville's 1963 rodeo, April 6 and 7.

Peggy Pearson, chairman of the queen selection committee, reports that several girls have entered, including Betty Blevin, of Porterville; Terry Strader, of Exeter; Susan Yancey, of Tulare, and Charlean Walker, Sheree Glover and Renee Babineau, from Springville.

The contest is open to all single girls in Tulare county between the ages of 16 and 21 years; judging of queen candidates will be based on horsemanship, 50 per cent; scholarship, 15 per cent; personality, 25 per cent; and sale of special tickets, 10 per cent. Three attendants will also be selected.

All contestants, with their parents, will meet with Mrs. Pearson in Springville the evening of March 2; full details of the contest can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Pearson, phone Jefferson 9-2665.

There are 90.5 million licensed drivers in the United States.

DANGEROUS FRIENDS

When you look over your list of investments and spot some you wish you didn't own, do you wonder why you bought them in the first place? Can you recall who suggested you part with your hard-earned money? Was it a neighbor, a golf partner, a business associate, a woman in your bridge club?

If this is your experience, you may have learned this valuable lesson the hard way: friends who pass along "free advice" unwittingly cause people to lose more money than all the crooks who ever fleeced the public.

It's strange how an otherwise conservative person — man or woman — who wouldn't spend a dollar for something that wasn't "all wool and a yard wide" will fall for the investment "tips" of well-meaning but uninformed friends. What's even worse, it's generally at a time when the chance of loss instead of profit may be the greatest.

All will recognize the valuable service provided by the specialist. The doctor, the lawyer, the tax accountant, the auto mechanic, the butcher all are specialists in their field. As you search out the best specialist to serve your needs in these and many other fields, it is just as important to seek the services of an experienced specialist when investing.

In the long run, the best protection against poor advice is to keep your friendships and investment program separate — to learn all you can about what you're investing in from a reputable investment dealer.

MONACHE DEER IN FINE CONDITION; WINTER RANGE IS LOOKING GOOD

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 28 — Sportsmen who returned last week from a survey of the winter range of the Monache deer herd in the Brush creek, La Mont, Long Valley and Chimney creek areas, report deer in excellent condition and the range in better shape than for many years.

Bitter brush has made a heavy growth and bunch grass is starting, according to the sportsmen; deer are fat and more widely scattered than in other years, probably because of the mild winter.

It appears that about as many deer are on the winter range as in normal years, but are more widely scattered. It was the opinion of the sportsmen group that controlled, special hunts are relieving the pressure, to some extent, on the winter range.

As an example of the wider range of the herd, in an area where 500 deer were counted last year, only 72 deer were seen on the recent trip. There is some indication of predator activity, and some fresh lion signs, but nothing to cause alarm, it is stated.

No cattle or horses are in the winter deer range area; all members of the party felt that condition of the range, and of the deer sighted, was "remarkable".

In the party were: John Keck, Cooper Smith, George Franklin, Don Bolander, and R. J. Owen, from Porterville; Dick Reed, from Woodville; Gordon Todd, from Ducor, and Grant Birmingham, from Fresno.

Field Crop

9:30 a.m., Wednesday; on Tuesday morning the program will be presented at the Dinuba Grange hall, and in the afternoon at the Tulare County Farm Bureau office in Visalia.

Subjects for discussion, according to Sallee are: Alfalfa — Increasing yields by fertilization, irrigation, and cutting dates, and how to eliminate the insecticide residue problem; Blackeye — Price outlook for 1963, insect control and irrigation practices to produce number one beans. These subjects will be discussed by Sallee.

Cotton — Economics of skip-row planting, problems related to decline in yield, and new developments in cotton production that are of major interest to growers and will be outlined by Farm Advisor Alan George. Grain Sorghums — Farm Advisor Wilson, Penderly will present data on grain sorghum varieties, methods of growing, planting dates, and irrigation. Everyone is cordially invited.

TYPE III POLIO

taken, one at a time at one to two month intervals, doctors state.

The Sabin vaccine eliminates the polio virus itself rather than to immunize the bloodstream from the virus which may be in the body. By eliminating the virus it is possible to eliminate carriers of the virus. Persons protected by Salk shots can still be a polio carrier and not know it. The potential spread of the disease can be stopped with the Sabin oral vaccine.

As in the past immunization programs for Type I and Type II, there will be clinics throughout the county on Sabin Oral Sunday, March 10.

VETERINARIANS BACK DOG LICENSE ACTION

VISALIA, Feb. 28 — The Tulare County Veterinary Medical association has backed the Tulare County Humane society in its order for arrest of persons in Visalia who have failed to have their dogs licensed and vaccinated for rabies. The Humane society, the agency that is under contract to the county and to most cities of the county to handle dog licensing, was under criticism for methods used in the Visalia area.

From Daybell
Nursery
By John

After reading the high graded conversation about tomato planting reported by the alleged editor of this possible newspaper, we can only say one thing — "He is right" — This is fine with us because we strongly feel that wives and newspaper editors should be allowed to be right at least once a year. Any more times than that goes to their head.

If your better half hasn't had her chnace this year, then let her be right and allow the kid to spend her dollar allowance at Daybell's. For a dollar she can buy twelve tomato plants complete with hot caps or two dozen without. These are guaranteed to freeze at least once, to be partially killed by cut worms, and to be eventually devoured by tomato bugs.

The only thing we urge you to hurry about is planting fruit trees. These are fast being sold out in some varieties and will soon be too late in others. The lack of cool weather has shortened the dormant season so much that even husbands are starting to stir around. Which proves that walnuts and pecans aren't the only nuts that know its spring.

Of course bermuda grass has also responded to the season and should be sprayed with downpon (DowPon). This fine material kills roots and all which keeps it from sprouting back with so much vigor. If gardeners had half the strength the good Lord gave the weeds, our yards would be beautiful. Meanwhile come by and see the wonderful weeds we have to sell.
